1. Introduction

Before a formal complaint procedure is submitted, stakeholders must first attempt to settle disputes informally, preferably at the lowest level. Both parties should aim to resolve the dispute in a cordial and professional manner. If it is not possible to resolve complaints at an informal level, a formal complaint may be submitted.

2. Purpose and Scope

The purpose of this document is to set forth GSTC procedures for managing complaints, concerns and feedback. The document is normative reference which will be used alongside other normative GSTC documents.

Complaints against the GSTC normative framework, staff, procedures and programs are managed and processed by the GSTC through this grievance mechanism.

Complaints against the performance of GSTC Recognized Standards (SO) are managed and processed by the GSTC through this grievance mechanism.
Complaints against the performance of a GSTC-Accredited Certification Body (CB) for Industry are managed by ASI and processed according to their procedures.

Stakeholders with complaints about a GSTC-Accredited CB or GSTC Recognized Standard Owner (SO), in the first place, should contact the CB/SO and seek to resolve the matter with them directly either through dialogue or by making use of the CB/SO own grievance mechanism.

If complaints cannot be resolved directly with the CB/SO, stakeholders are encouraged to contact the GSTC Secretariat to highlight their concern by email at complaints@gstc.org. The GSTC Secretariat reserves the right to forward the complaint to the relevant institution.

Stakeholders with complaints related to the performance of the Assurance Services International (ASI) shall first use the dispute mechanism established by ASI.

Complaints against entities (e.g. hotel) certified by a GSTC-Accredited CB about their compliance with the GSTC certification requirements are managed and processed by the CB who issue the Certificate according to the CB own grievance mechanism. The GSTC Secretariat reserves the right to forward the complaint to the relevant institution.

Complaints and appeals relating to processes and decisions about Recognition and Accreditation for Destinations issued by applicants are not included within the scope of this mechanism. Those complaints and appeals are dealt with by the procedures in the GSTC Recognition Manual and GSTC Accreditation Manual for Destinations, respectively. See more in section 7.

3. Responsibility

The GSTC Secretariat holds the primary responsibility for managing the grievance mechanism. The GSTC Secretariat will review the content of this document on a regular basis.

The GSTC Secretariat is responsible to appoint an impartial investigator or team of investigators, should this role be needed in the case of a Complaint Investigation. The selection of investigators shall be based on their expertise, neutrality, and absence of conflicts of interest with any involved parties.

4. Principles

Impartiality

The process should not be open to any forms of influence which might raise doubts about the objectivity of the decisions taken.

Transparency
The processes adopted should be transparent and available for scrutiny by stakeholders.

Confidentiality

All information directly or indirectly disclosed during the process by all parties involved shall be treated as confidential. Information will not be shared with any third party except with explicit consent in writing from GSTC in advance.
